A Message from Nebraska Athletic Director Tom Osborne

I want to welcome you to another historic Nebraska football season in our 50th anniversary year of an ongoing NCAA record for consecutive sellouts. It is a remarkable record and the reason why entrances to Memorial Stadium are inscribed with: "Through these gates pass the Greatest Fans in College Football."

Having been at Nebraska to serve on Bob Devaney's first coaching staff in 1962, I understand the reason behind such words. The intent is to salute your unmatched loyalty and support in both victory and defeat over this past half century.

Records show that Nebraska has won more games than any other Division I football program over the past 50 years. I know all Nebraska fans take great pride in that fact, but I am even prouder of another tradition – the sportsmanship that sets us apart in one of the finest venues in college football.

Opposing coaches, players and fans remember how they were treated and often comment on their experience. I appreciate you taking on that role and sustaining our standards for respect, and I feel we all share the burden of living up to the descriptions that greet both the home and the visiting teams that play here.

Our first season in the Big Ten Conference was exciting last year, and we're embracing another competitive challenge this year. Coach Pelini, his staff and our players work hard year-round to meet the high standards of Nebraska football, and our fans continue to be an important part of our success.

On the golden anniversary season of our record for consecutive sellouts, we honor you, our fans, and the core values that I believe have made Nebraska great...honesty, courage, character, loyalty and faith in the game. Thank you for being an important part of those values that we strive to meet every day.

Best Wishes,

Tom Osborne

A Message from Big Ten Conference Commissioner James Delany

Dear Big Ten Fans:

On behalf of the Big Ten Conference and its institutions, I would like to thank you for your continuous support. Big Ten fans have had the opportunity to witness some of the greatest champions ever in intercollegiate athletics. Throughout history, student-athletes from our storied past have laid the foundation for those who will follow.

The Big Ten boasts one of the most broad-based athletic programs in the country with nearly 10,000 student-athletes, more than any conference, competing for 25 championships. In the classroom, Big Ten conference programs have produced more than 1,400 Academic All-Americans, also more than any conference in the nation.

Win, lose or draw every Big Ten student-athlete heads to the future armed with the tools necessary to become a leader for the rest of their lives—at work, in the community and throughout the world. Today's participants have been instilled with the very same values as those that have competed before them including integrity, hard work, determination and sportsmanship.

We encourage our fans to follow their lead. Cheer for your team, revel in victory and be gracious in defeat.

Today, these student-athletes strive for victory while eyeing their place in Big Ten history. We hope you'll help them to achieve greatness not only today, but in all of their endeavors that lie ahead.

Sincerely,

James E. Delany
Big Ten Commissioner

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is a public university committed to providing a quality education to a diverse student body. It is the policy of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln not to discriminate based on gender, age, disability, race, color, religion, marital status, veteran's status, national or ethnic origin or sexual orientation.

Nebraska opens its 123rd season of football this afternoon, when the Huskers host Southern Miss in the 2012 season opener.

Bo Pelini leads the Huskers onto the field for his fifth full season as Nebraska's Head Coach. Pelini has guided NU to 38 wins over his first four full seasons, including four straight nine-win campaigns. The Huskers are one of only eight teams nationally who have won at least nine games in each of the past four seasons. Pelini, who has won at least a share of a division title in three of his first four seasons, is among an impressive group of first-time head coaches to produce four straight nine-win seasons. Among current BCS Conference schools, Pelini is just the sixth first-time head coach in NCAA history to win nine games in each of his first four seasons.

Nebraska is coming off a 9-4 campaign in 2011 that culminated with an appearance in the Capital One Bowl. The Huskers ended 2011 ranked 24th in the AP poll, four spots behind Southern Miss (No. 20). The Golden Eagles went 12-2 last season and were Conference USA champs. Ellis Johnson will make his Southern Miss head coaching debut this afternoon.

Huskers Ready for Year Two in the Big Ten

Head Coach Bo Pelini's fifth Nebraska team has an excellent mix of veteran talent and leadership, and an infusion of young talent and potential that should put the Huskers in a position to contend in their second year in the Big Ten Conference.

After putting together a 9-4 record in its first season in the Big Ten, Nebraska has its eyes on representing the Legends Division in the Big Ten Championship Game in Indianapolis on Dec. 1.

On offense, quarterback Taylor Martinez enters his third season as the starter, while I-back Rex Burkhead is one of the nation's top returning runners. Martinez and Burkhead are the nation's top returning quarterback-running back rushing leaders, after combining to total 2,231 yards on the ground in 2011. The Huskers also return ample experience at receiver, tight end and on the offensive line that should help NU put an explosive offensive attack on the field. Overall, Nebraska returns 12 offensive players with starting experience, including seven who have started more than 10 career games.

Despite the loss of three all-conference players, Nebraska's defense is among the deepest and most experienced of the Pelini era. Fifth-year seniors return at each level of the defense, led by a trio of three-year starters in tackle Baker Steinkuhler, end Cameron Meredith and linebacker Will Compton. Compton is Nebraska's top returning tackler after a strong finish to his junior season, while Meredith is the Huskers' leading returner in sacks and tackles-for-loss. Steinkuhler, Meredith and Compton, along with safety Daimion Stafford, give the Blackshirts four returning players who earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten recognition last fall.

The Huskers also figure to again field one of the nation's best special teams units again in 2012, led by the return of all-conference place-kicker/punter Brett Maher. The Big Ten punter and place-kicker of the year last season, Maher is one of only two kickers on the preseason watch list for both the Lou Groza and Ray Guy awards. Returner Ameer Abdullah is also back as a preseason candidate for the Johnny "The Jet" Rodgers Return Specialist award, along with the Paul Hornung Award, which is presented to the nation's most versatile player.

The Numbers Game

26 Nebraska has won its season opener for 26 straight seasons, the longest streak in the nation.

8 The Huskers are one of only eight schools nationally who have won at least nine games in each of the past four seasons.

3 Taylor Martinez is expected to start his third consecutive season opener today. All-Americans Tommie Frazier (1993-95) and Steve Taylor (1986-88) are the only quarterbacks in Husker history to start three season openers under center.

Rex Burkhead enters his senior season 12th on Nebraska's all-time rushing chart with 2,654 career yards. He needs 90 rushing yards today to move up to 10th place.

NU Looks to Extend Nation-Leading Win Streak in Season Openers

Nebraska will look to continue a nation-leading streak when it opens the 2012 season today. Last year's 40-7 win over Chattanooga marked the Huskers' 26th straight victory in a season opener. The streak leads the nation, bettering Florida's 22 straight season-opening wins.

The Huskers have won each of their last 26 season openers by 10 or more points, and have scored 40 or more points in the opener 19 of the past 26 seasons. In the win streak, NU has limited opponents to 14 points or less 18 times. Overall, Nebraska owns a 91-26-5 all-time record in season openers (.766 winning percentage).

Huskers Earn Preseason Recognition

Several Huskers have earned preseason recognition heading into today's season opener. Highlighting the list of honorees are seniors Rex Burkhead and Brett Maher, who both earned preseason All-America honors. Burkhead was a second-team running back selection, while Maher was a second-team kicker.

Burkhead earned recognition as one of 50 players on the Walter Camp Award watch list and one of 65 players on the Doak Walker Award and Maxwell Award watch lists. The Walter Camp and Maxwell awards are presented annually to the nation's player of the year, while the Doak Walker Award honors the nation's top running back.

In addition to his preseason All-America recognition, Maher was named to the watch lists for the Ray Guy and Lou Groza awards. A native of Kearney, Neb., Maher was one of only two kickers nationally to be named to the watch list for both the Guy and Groza awards, which honor the nation's top punter and place-kicker, respectively.

Other Husker offensive players earning preseason recognition were sophomore Ameer Abdullah, juniors Spencer Long and Taylor Martinez and senior Kyler Reed. Abdullah was on the watch list for "The Jet" award, which recognizes the nation's top returner and is named in honor of former Husker Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers. Abdullah also earned a spot on the Paul Hornung Award watch list, an award given to the most versatile player in college football. Long is being considered as one of the nation's top linemen with his inclusions on the watch list for the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award, while Martinez earned preseason recognition on a pair of watch lists for two of the top quarterback honors, the Manning and Davey O'Brien awards. Reed wrapped up the list of offensive honorees by earning his second straight selection to the Mackey Award watch list, which is awarded to the nation's top tight end.

Players to Watch

N Senior I-back Rex Burkhead carried the ball 284 times in 2011, the second-highest total in school history. He ran for 1,357 yards last season, the seventh-highest total in NU history and the most by a Husker I-back since 1997. Burkhead is a preseason candidate for the Walter Camp and Doak Walker awards, and he is a preseason All-American.

Senior Jamie Collins enters the 2012 season as one of the nation's premier defensive linemen. In 2011, Collins recorded 98 tackles, including 19.5 TFLs and 9.5 sacks. He is on the preseason watch list for the Butkus, Lombardi, Bronko Nagurski and Chuck Bednarik awards.

On defense, a pair of senior defensive linemen earned preseason recognition. Defensive end Cameron Meredith earned a spot on the Ted Hendricks Award watch list for the second straight year, an award given to the nation's best defensive end. Steinkuhler earned a trio of preseason honors, including spots on the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award watch lists. He was also considered among the nation's best overall defenders, as he was one of 42 national candidates for the Lott IMPACT Trophy.

Huskers Boast Talented Backfield in Burkhead and Martinez

Nebraska's rushing attack has been among the nation's best each of the past two seasons and figures to be a potent attack again in 2012. Leading the way on the ground for Nebraska are senior I-back Rex Burkhead and junior quarterback Taylor Martinez, who are expected to rank among the nation's top rushing tandems.

Burkhead finished the 2011 season 19th nationally in rushing, averaging 104.4 yards per game. Burkhead's 1,357 rushing yards ranked seventh in NU history, were the most by a Husker since 2002 and the most by a Nebraska running back since 1997. Burkhead enters today's season opener with 2,654 career rushing yards, good for 12th in school history. He would move into the all-time top 10 with 90 rushing yards today.

Martinez enters his junior season in a position to challenge nearly every Nebraska career record for rushing by a quarterback. The Corona, Calif., native enters today with 1,839 rushing yards to rank fifth among Nebraska quarterbacks. Martinez needs 161 rushing yards to become the 27th Husker - and fourth quarterback - to rush for 2,000 career yards.

When Martinez reaches the mark, it will give Nebraska two players in the same backfield with 2,000 career rushing yards for the first time since 2000. Nebraska has had only four backfields (1978, 1982, 1992, 2000) in school history with multiple players owning 2,000 career rushing yards. The 2000 backfield, which featured quarterback Eric Crouch and I-backs Dan Alexander and Correll Buckhalter, is the only backfield in school history to feature both a quarterback and an I-back with 2,000 yards rushing each.

Together, Burkhead and Martinez racked up 2,231 rushing yards in 2011. That figure ranked as the second-best quarterback-running back rushing total in the nation last season. The twosome is the top returning QB-RB rushing tandem in the country, just ahead of Michigan's Denard Robinson and Fitzgerald Toussaint.

FBS Top Returning Quarterback-Running Back Rushing Combos

1. Nebraska, 2,231 yards (Rex Burkhead, RB, 1,357; Taylor Martinez, QB, 874)
2. Michigan, 2,217 yards (Denard Robinson, QB, 1,176; Fitzgerald Toussaint, RB, 1,041)
3. Missouri, 2,149 yards (Henry Josey, RB, 1,168; James Franklin, QB, 981)

Kickoff Adjustments Highlight 2012 Rule Changes

Teams will kick off from the 35-yard line this season instead of the 30 due to new NCAA rules. Players on the kicking team are also prohibited from lining up for the kickoff from behind the 30-yard line, a rule intended to limit the running start kicking teams used to have during the play. Touchbacks on kickoffs will also be moved to the 25-yard line this season, instead of the 20. All other touchbacks (punts, fumbles, interceptions, etc.) will remain at the 20-yard line.

Two other new rules include a mandate that a player who loses his helmet during a play (other than via a penalty) will be forced to sit out the next play, and players are now prohibited from leaping over blockers while attempting to block a kick.

Like so many Division I athletes, Daimion Stafford has had to fight his way through adversity to get where he is today. From a junior college transfer, to a starter for the prestigious Blackshirt defense, Stafford will be looked upon as a leader of the Nebraska Cornhusker team during the 2012 season.

Stafford started out in Norco, Calif., where he played with starting NU quarterback Taylor Martinez for two years. After graduating from Norco High School, Stafford went on to play two years at Chaffey Community College in Rancho Cucamonga, Calif., where he was a standout player during his career.

Once it was time to pick a school to finish his collegiate career, Stafford found the family-like environment in Lincoln the determining factor. "It felt like home to me. When the coaches came and talked to me, it seemed like I was talking to the same guy."

Stafford made an immediate impact from day one with the Cornhuskers on the defensive side of the ball, where he started at safety 12 of 13 games last year.

You might remember Stafford's first game with the Huskers last year against Tennessee Chattanooga. He made local buzz with a bone-shattering hit against a running back in the fourth quarter of that game. But what you did not know was that one of the most feared defenders on the team was nervous running out in front of over 85,000 screaming Big Red fans.

"To be honest, I was scared, I have never seen that many people before at one place in my life. It's a crazy feeling."

After getting through his nerves of his first game of the season for NU, Stafford went on to be a reliable defender for the Huskers, recording 80 total tackles during his junior campaign.

Stafford wants to build on the success of his first season and get better this year, in hopes of helping the Huskers win their first conference championship since 1999. "I've pretty much just worked. We all want to get better, and during the offseason we all worked hard and got better."

First-year Defensive Coordinator John Papuchis agrees that a major change has occurred in Stafford's game.

"There is a night and day difference between Daimion this year and last year," Papuchis said. "He is a lot more comfortable in the defense. He is the leader of our secondary, and also the entire defense."

"When Daimion showed up last fall, he didn't know half the players' names, but now he has stepped up and become a leader on our team."

Since Bo Pelini has arrived in Lincoln, each and every year Nebraska has relied on a senior leader to lead the Blackshirts through the season. This year will be no different. The Blackshirts will need a vocal leader with the loss of standout players such as Alfonzo Dennard and Lavonte David.

During Stafford's first year with the team, he tried to learn as much as he could from Dennard and David so he could carry the load this season. "Playing behind those guys I learned a lot of stuff. Lavonte showed me how not to get caught up in the hype and pressure with playing at a major university."

From the season opener against Southern Mississippi today, and throughout the season, you can expect Stafford to lead the Husker defense through thick and thin, and ultimately add his name to the list of legendary Blackshirt players.

Southern Miss begins its 100th football season under new direction, as Ellis Johnson will coach his first game as Southern Miss' head coach today. The Golden Eagles were Conference USA champions last fall, finishing with a 12-2 record. Southern Miss finished 19th in the final 2011 coaches' poll, while coming in at No. 20 in the AP poll. The Golden Eagles finished five spots ahead of Nebraska in the coaches' poll and four spots in front of the Big Red in the AP poll.

Southern Miss Facts

Location: Hattiesburg, Miss.
Nickname: Golden Eagles
Enrollment: 16,506
Colors: Black & Gold
Conference: Conference USA
Stadium: Roberts Stadium
Capacity: 36,000
Series Record: Nebraska leads, 2-1
Head Coach: Ellis Johnson
Alma Mater (Year): The Citadel (1975)
Record at Southern Miss: 0-0
Career Record: 17-28 (four years)
Record vs. Nebraska: 0-0

USM returns 12 starters from last season, but the Golden Eagles have several key players to replace. On offense, Southern Miss must replace its leading rusher from last season, but the versatile Tracy Lampley returns as does Kendrick Hardy. Lampley, a wide receiver, ran for 463 yards en route to totaling 1,798 all-purpose yards in 2011. Hardy rushed for 426 yards in the first five games last season before suffering a season-ending injury. Bolstering the running game is the return of center Austin

Quattrochi, a preseason candidate for the Rimington Award.

Southern Miss must also replace quarterback Austin Davis, who threw for 3,496 yards and 30 touchdowns last season. Also gone are the Golden Eagles' top two receivers.

Defensively, USM returns three of its top four tacklers from 2011. Jamie Collins returns after totaling 98 tackles, 19.5 tackles for loss and 6.5 sacks. One of the nation's top defensive linemen, Collins is on the preseason watch list for the Butkus, Lombardi, Bronko Nagurski and Chuck Bednarik awards. Deron Wilson, a preseason candidate for the Jim Thorpe award, also returns to lead the Golden Eagle secondary. Gone is Cordarro Law, who led USM with 22.0 TFLs and 9.5 sacks in 2011.

Series History

Nebraska and Southern Miss meet for the fourth time today and the third time inside Memorial Stadium. The Huskers won the first two meetings in the series, but the Golden Eagles won the last meeting in 2004.

In the last meeting, Southern Miss held on for a 21-17 win inside Memorial Stadium on Sept. 11, 2004. The Huskers turned the ball over five times that day, leading to 18 Southern Miss points. Nebraska's final drive stalled inside the USM 20-yard line as time expired. That loss marked Nebraska's first home non-conference defeat in 13 seasons and snapped the Huskers' 20-game non-conference home winning streak.

Southern Miss has played Nebraska tough in its only two trips to Lincoln. In addition to winning in 2004, the Golden Eagles turned the ball over six times in a 20-13 loss in 1999, a season when Nebraska won the Big 12 title and earned a No. 3 final AP ranking. Southern Miss held the Huskers to fewer than 200 yards of offense in the loss, but NU linebacker Julius Jackson scored a pair of defensive touchdowns.

Southern Miss Head Coach Ellis Johnson

Ellis Johnson will make his debut as Southern Miss head coach this afternoon in his 40th season as a coach. He is entering his fifth season as a head coach, having served as Gardner Webb's head coach for the 1983 season and leading his alma mater, The Citadel, from 2001 to 2003. Johnson owns a 17-28 record as a collegiate head coach.

Johnson will begin his new job against the same team he competed against in his final game at his old school. Prior to accepting the Southern Miss job, Johnson spent the previous four seasons as South Carolina's defensive coordinator. He was on the sideline in January when the Gamecocks held Nebraska scoreless over the final three quarters in a 30-13 victory at the 2012 Capital One Bowl.

Johnson has also served as defensive coordinator at Alabama, Appalachian State, Clemson and Mississippi State.

BRETT MAHER

"I can't remember which game it was, but here he is begging me to kick a 61-yarder at the end of the first half. There are a lot of kickers that are going to run the other way if that's even brought up to them, but here he was tugging on my shirt, saying, 'Hey, I can make this.' That's the kind of makeup you want in a kicker."

--Head Coach Bo Pelini

KEARNEY, NEB.

By Connor Stange, Nebraska Media Relations

It's always hard to follow a legend. However, Brett Maher never had a choice. After two years of serving as a backup to Nebraska's career leading scorer, Alex Henery, Maher was asked to take over as the team's place-kicker and punter.

"There was definitely a little pressure with it," Maher said. "It was exciting for me and definitely an experience I am very thankful for, and I'm just thankful I could have someone like that in front of me that I could learn so much from. I think that's been a key to the success I've had so far."

As a junior in 2011, Maher filled the role with success, going 19-of-23 on field goals and 43-of-44 on extra points. At season's end, he was named first-team All-Big Ten kicker and punter, while also earning honorable-mention All-America honors from Sports Illustrated. Maher was named Big Ten Special Teams Player of the Week on three occasions, including his first game as the starter against Chattanooga.

He went 4-for-4 in the 40-7 season-opening victory, but his favorite memory as a Husker was the first kick he had in that game. It was with 1:52 remaining in the first quarter that Maher booted a 50-yarder through the uprights, calming the nerves of following Henery. Maher added field goals of 48, 34 and 21 yards against the Mocs.

However, with all the success Maher enjoyed as a junior, he said there are still improvements to be made as a senior.

"I just tried to work harder in the offseason and perfect some things and fine tune some things," Maher said. "I tried to get my leg a little bit stronger, get a little more accurate and just try to get a little better at everything, so I can be as consistent as possible."

Maher added that he's gotten quite a bit bigger, stronger and more flexible since first coming to Nebraska as a walk on in 2008.

As a kid, Maher looked up to Kris Brown, who kicked for Nebraska from 1995 to 1998. Brown held the school record for career scoring before Henery eclipsed it in 2010.

"I was lucky enough to be in contact with Kris when I was really young, like second or third grade," Maher said. "He was someone I always looked up to."

Maher didn't start playing competitive football until fifth grade. Prior to that, the Kearney, Neb., native took part in the NFL Punt, Pass & Kick program, which grew his love of the game.

"I did that for a long time and it kind of evolved through the years," Maher said. "I played soccer until junior high school. I didn't play in high school, but I think that helped me when I was younger."

At Kearney, Maher played for the basketball team and ran track in addition to playing football. He experienced success in all three areas, winning state titles in long jump and pole vault as a senior, while earning honorable-mention Class A all-state basketball accolades. On the football field, he went 8-for-14 on field goals and 41-for-46 on extra points as a senior. Additionally, he was a wide receiver for the Bearcats, compiling nearly 800 yards in his final season.

Five years later, in his final season as a Husker, Maher has earned preseason All-Big Ten and All-America honors. Maher may have had the daunting task of following a legend, but he has the chance to become a legend of his own for the Huskers this fall.

Even some of the most dedicated Husker fans might not recognize the name P.J. Mangieri. For a long snapper, where recognition usually only comes if you mess up, less press is better. The 6-4, 240-pound senior doesn't mind sitting in the shadows, though. He even thinks that players shouldn't look at all the statistics that come with football.

"You go out and do your job and don't really pay attention to the stats," Mangieri said. "I feel like the more you pay attention to a certain thing or reaching a certain goal, it has its ups, but it also has its downs, you know? You get that nervous feeling and start to play mental games in your head. (Stats) are just something that I never really paid attention to or knew until people brought it to my attention."

One stat that Mangieri has paid attention to is the fact that he's been Nebraska's starting long snapper ever since his true freshman season. Football players are no strangers to missing a game or two due to injury, especially those who get playing time week after week. For Mangieri, that's never been an issue. Mangieri has played - and been the Huskers' starting long snapper - in all 41 games in his career, or every Nebraska game the past three seasons. That streak is one he hopes to keep going during his last year.

"Not to brag, but I do have the most current starts on this team," he said. "It'll be awesome. I'm one of the few that has come through this program and has been able to say I've played every single game since day one and finished that way, if it all plays right."

Mangieri's dedication goes beyond the field. He has volunteered his time by visiting kids in the hospital and becoming involved in Husker Hotline. Both are popular volunteer outlets for members of the team, but for him it goes beyond the gesture.

"I think it's important for athletes to reach out to the kids and to the people who really care about us," he said. "I know it warms their hearts and it sure warms ours as well."

Growing up in Peoria, Ill., Mangieri spent a majority of his time outdoors with his family, especially his father and brother. Whether it was playing baseball, football or fishing, the most important part was that they were active and outside. He then transitioned into a full-time football player as he entered high school. Playing for Coach Jeff Alderman, Mangieri lined up on both the offensive and defensive lines during his career at Dunlap High School.

"I just really love the sport of football, and I really enjoy hitting people," he said, joking about the sport's rough nature. "I continued that on through high school and eventually to college."

Mangieri joined the Huskers in 2009 as the only walk-on freshman to see playing time. Since then, the team's kickers have made 59-of-68 field goals in the past three years and held a streak of 31 consecutive games without missing a field goal from inside 50 yards, all with the help of Mangieri's steady and trustworthy snaps. Though his efforts go unnoticed most of the time, the Husker coaches who have worked with him praised him for being one of the most reliable players on the team.

The business administration major aims to remain reliable after he graduates, where he looks to again make an immediate impact, this time in the career world.

"I graduate in May," he said. "If there are any business people looking for a new person to hire, I'm here."

TAYLOR DIXON

By Kevan Carr, Nebraska Media Relations

"This is as good as it gets coming from a small town in Nebraska," Taylor Dixon said when asked about what it means to him to be a Nebraska Cornhusker.

The son of Brad and Mindi Dixon growing up in Wauneta, becoming part of the Husker football program was only a dream for Taylor Dixon. Taylor seized his opportunity to become part of something great by trying out as a walk-on for the team. With humility and grace, he landed a spot on the team, but it hasn't been easy.

"You go from being the best guy on your high school team to the bottom of the pack," Dixon said. "So it's a huge difference and an extremely tough challenge. It was humbling."

As a walk-on, Dixon hasn't seen a lot of playing time but has remained a part of the team nonetheless. Being a player for the Huskers means more to him than just time on the field or the benefits of a Division I athlete's workout regimen. Dixon hopes his experience on the team will help build him a successful future.

"I feel like when people see my experience here as part of the team and program on my resume," Dixon said. "They're going to know that I work hard, have a great work ethic, can manage my time effectively and that it has instilled a lot of character and discipline in me."

In his time here at Nebraska as a student-athlete, Dixon has also taken the time to give back to the community that has given so much to him. He has done community service as part of the team with hospital visits during Thanksgiving and Christmas and also as a speaker during American Education Week in which he made trips to local schools to talk about health and fitness with Lincoln's youth.

On track to graduate in December upon season's end, Dixon knows his time in the Husker football program will be beneficial to his success. Instead of just being a regular college student, he raised the ante for himself and chose to become a student-athlete.

"I felt like I'd get the most out of the experience," Dixon said, "so I decided to come here and go for it."

MATT MANNINGER

By Gage Peake, Nebraska Media Relations

Dreams...every child has dreams of what they want to do when they grow up, and if you ask a boy in Nebraska what his dream is, he will probably tell you he wants to play football for the Huskers when he gets older.

This was no different for Omaha native Matt Manninger, a senior walk-on linebacker entering his final year of eligibility with NU.

"Growing up in Omaha, it has always been my dream to play at Nebraska," Manninger said. "Nebraska had what I wanted to go into. A lot of the schools I looked at didn't have my program (dietetics and nutrition, exercise and health science)."

Although Manninger has yet to see the field, his work ethic going into his final season has put him in a spot to be a top backup to fellow senior Sean Fisher.

Manninger joins a long list of local walk-on athletes hoping to leave their mark on the football field for the Huskers.

"It's a pretty big thing to uphold, a lot of the guys come back and talk to us after practice or games," Manninger said. "Plus a lot of us have relatives that have played here and even walked on so it's a pretty big deal."

As for his experience being a part of the Husker football team, Manninger seems to have settled in quite well, balancing football, academics, as well as his personal life in his day-to-day routine.

"The first year you are here, you feel like it will never end. But after that first season it goes by really quick and you meet a lot of lifelong friends. As far as growing up as a person here, the two things I have learned were time management and responsibility," Manninger said. "You can't just account for yourself, you also have to hold your teammates accountable as well."

After football season ends, the standout in the classroom wants to continue pursuing his education and get his master's degree.

"The plan right now is to go somewhere so I can get my dietetic internship, and continue my education."

S NEBRASKA

For more than a century, the legacy of Nebraska Football has been growing. From its humble beginning in 1890 – when two games made an entire schedule – to 2012, where an established, nationally prominent program enjoys a rich history of success, Nebraska's student-athletes have entertained and excelled on all levels. Five national championships and 43 conference titles highlight the accomplishments of one of college football's most storied programs. There have been Heisman winners and Outland Trophy recipients, a nation-leading number of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, a strong tradition of success in the classroom and many professional football stars. But underlying all of the countless accolades is a football family that does not rely on wins and losses as the final indicator of excellence. Nebraska football is much more than talented athletes and coaches taking the field to play a game – it is a family. The fans, support staff and student-athletes are all Dedicated to Excellence through Integrity, Trust, Respect, Teamwork and Loyalty. It is this commitment on and off the field that makes Nebraska unique and assures that the rich tradition of the Huskers will keep growing for years to come.

Nebraska started the new millennium the same way it ended the last – among the nation's elite. In the 1980s and 1990s, Nebraska became the first team in the history of Division I football to post 100 wins in back-to-back decades. Since the start of the 1970s, Nebraska has posted the best record of any Division I team (403-104-5). That outstanding tradition began with Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne and continues in 2012 with Coach Bo Pelini.

WINNING TRADITION

- Nebraska is one of just eight schools with 800 or more all-time victories
- Nebraska is one of just nine schools with a .700 winning percentage or better
- Eight Huskers have won a nation-leading nine Outland Trophies
- Since 1960, 78 Huskers have earned first-team All-America honors
- Over the last 15 seasons, Nebraska is second among Big Ten Conference schools with 76 players chosen in the NFL Draft
- The Huskers have won 34 conference titles outright and shared another nine crowns
- Nebraska has played on television more than 300 times in the last 59 years

Few college athletic programs can boast the national championship resume of Nebraska football. Since 1970, Nebraska has won more games than any other team in the country, captured five national championships and played for a national title in a bowl game on four other occasions. The Huskers are one of only three college football teams to win at least five national championships since 1970, and one of only seven to capture at least three titles.

TRADITION

"It was everything I thought it would be and more. Nebraska just treats people the way you want to be treated. The minute you get here, you feel that love that people have for you. You feel that atmosphere that champions have, and you embrace everything you know it will take for you to get there yourself."

Will Shields
2011 College Football Hall of Fame Member

1994- Nebraska has won four of its five national championships in the Orange Bowl, including outlasting Miami, 24-17, in a victory in the 1995 game.

1997- Ahman Green and Nebraska ran past Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl to give Tom Osborne his third national title in his final four seasons as head coach. Green rushed for more than 200 yards in the win over the Vols.

1995- Nebraska ran over Florida in the 1996 Fiesta Bowl with quarterback Tommie Frazier leading an offense that produced a bowl-record 524 rushing yards.

1971- Jeff Kinney runs for a score in a 38-6 Orange Bowl win over Alabama.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

"What's more, this stadium is more than just a Sea of Red - it is the most underrated venue in college football for its historical value."

NBC Sports.com, 2009

One of the "Cathedrals of College Football" according to the Sporting News, Memorial Stadium is one of the most historic and imposing locations to play in all of sports.

Memorial Stadium is routinely ranked among the top 10 stadiums in all of college football, including recent features by CBS Sports, The Sporting News and Bleacher Report.

Memorial Stadium continues to grow as construction is well underway for a project that will add another 5,000 seats in time for the 2013 season, and push average attendance past the 90,000 mark.

While the stadium continues to expand, Nebraska has continued its NCAA-record streak of 318 consecutive sellouts that dates back to 1962. During the sellout streak, Nebraska has recorded a 275-43 record, including a 140-20 mark during the last 24 seasons.

THE FACTS

- Year built: 1923
- Original Capacity: 31,000
- Current Capacity: 81,091
- Largest Crowd: 86,304 vs. Louisiana-Lafayette, Sept. 26, 2009
- Sold out since: Nov. 3, 1962

FOUR CORNER INSCRIPTIONS

"In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Memorial Stadium
Inscription on Southeast Corner

"Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Memorial Stadium
Inscription on Northwest Corner

"Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

Memorial Stadium
Inscription on Northeast Corner

"Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Memorial Stadium
Inscription on Southwest Corner

Memorial Stadium is one of the most historic venues in all of college football. The stadium opened in 1923 and while maintaining its traditional charm, it has continued to evolve.

Construction is on schedule for expansion to East Stadium (photo at left). When completed for the 2013 season, the addition will push Nebraska's average attendance beyond 90,000. While adding more than 5,000 seats the addition will preserve the rich tradition and history of the original architecture of Memorial Stadium. In addition to new public seating and suites, the East Stadium addition will also provide improved fan amenities and includes research facilities with both athletic and academic components.

Memorial Stadium has been one of the more high-tech stadiums in college football since the addition of HuskerVision screens in 1994. Memorial Stadium features five replay boards, including a mammoth screen atop the North Stadium. Nearly every fan in the stadium has a clear view of a HuskerVision screen. In 2009, the facades of the East and West balconies added ribbon boards, further adding to the fan experience at one of the nation's best sporting venues.

DEVOTED FANS

Nebraska football fans are perhaps the most loyal in college football. The entire state follows the Huskers, along with an ever-growing national fan base, packing Memorial Stadium for every game since 1962. On Sept. 26, 2009, Nebraska fans added another chapter to their rich history by celebrating the 300th consecutive sellout of Memorial Stadium. The Big Red faithful packed a single-game record 86,304 fans into the historic venue for Nebraska's 55-0 win over Louisiana-Lafayette. Nebraska has extended its NCAA record sellout streak to 318 as it enters the 2012 season, and will celebrate 50 years of sellouts this fall.

Husker fans bring their show on the road as well. More than 60,000 red-clad Huskers trekked to Pasadena for the 2002 Rose Bowl, and in 2001, more than 30,000 Huskers swarmed South Bend for a matchup with Notre Dame. In 2006, the Husker Nation again outdid itself as nearly 30,000 Nebraska fans descended on the Coliseum in Los Angeles to watch the Huskers contest with USC. Opposing stadiums throughout Big Ten Country began to see the invasion of red-clad Husker fans in 2011, including more than 15,000 Nebraska fans at Wisconsin.

Every entrance at Memorial Stadium welcomes Husker fans with the following phrase: "Through these gates pass the Greatest Fans in College Football."

"I think Nebraska fans are the greatest fans in college football, no question in my mind. The enthusiasm here is as good as any place, but the integrity here of the fans is the best in America."

Lee Corso, ESPN College Football Analyst

"After the game, I've never heard so many positive people walking off the field. Our kids were almost in shock with the type of fans that they have. They were congratulating them on a great game, for playing hard, telling our guys good luck and that's the type of atmosphere that is great. I was kind of taken back walking off the field, because I've never heard those kind of positive remarks like that in any game."

Former Fresno State Coach Pat Hill

FOOTBALL FACILITIES

The home of five national championship football teams, Nebraska provides its players with every tool needed to be successful. The primary home for the football team is its locker room, which ranks among the most impressive in the country.

Each locker is made of solid maple and features a convenient storage system for equipment and is also customized with an iPad. The lockers are hand-made and custom designed with individual electronic security locks and a unique ventilation system that pulls air through and out of the locker.

The design of the locker room (lower left) allows each athlete to have a greater amount of space and personal storage while providing a convenient location next to the equipment room. The locker room received additional upgrades as part of Ndamukong Suh's generous donation to the athletic department including iPads (lower right) at each locker.

The Hawks Championship Indoor Center (lower right) opened for the football team during spring practice in 2006. The magnificent facility features FieldTurf identical to Memorial Stadium's surface. The field also opens onto the practice fields of the Ed and Joyanne Gass Practice Facility, which includes one grass field and one field that was converted to FieldTurf in the summer of 2010. The indoor center is connected by a skybridge to the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex to give Nebraska the best all-around football facilities in the nation.

Nebraska's meeting space more than doubled with the completion of the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex in 2006. The large team room (upper left) provides space for nearly 160 people and allows coaches to utilize the most advanced technology as it is equipped with theatre-quality sound and video systems.

The team meeting room is one of several teaching areas on the football floor, as each position coach has a meeting room (top right) directly across the hall from his office. Players and coaches each have more space to view game or practice video, giving them a greater edge in preparing for competition. Players also have a players lounge (middle right) to enjoy during their down time. The lounge is located on the football office floor and includes the latest technology.

Nebraska's rich tradition and history of success is on display throughout Memorial Stadium (middle left). In addition to a national championship trophy display on the football floor, the Nebraska Football Experience Room in the Osborne Complex highlights the Huskers' three Heisman Trophy winners.

BUILDING THE COMPLETE FOOTBALL PLAYER

The University of Nebraska football strength and conditioning staff is committed to helping each student-athlete reach his physical potential through a comprehensive approach to developing the complete football player. Through individual assessment and program design, it is our objective to increase the athletic performance of each individual athlete while reducing the risk of injury.

STRENGTH STAFF

The football strength and conditioning staff consists of five full-time coaches whose sole purpose is to train the football student-athlete. The student-athlete has a 4-5 year window to reach his potential both physically and as a football player. To do so requires the daily individual attention and interaction with the strength and conditioning staff to ensure each athlete is on the path to success.

We are committed to training the complete football player, aiming to ensure that each athlete reaches his potential. It is our job to create an atmosphere that will promote an increase in both mental and physical performance while reducing the risk of injury. Individual program design is essential in order to completely develop an athlete. Every athlete is different; every athlete has his own genetic profile, medical history and training history. We will evaluate each athlete when he comes to the University of Nebraska. It all starts with an initial physical assessment that includes evaluating the areas of strength, performance and function. When the data is collected and interpreted, a program will be designed to address the individual demands of the athlete.

COMPONENTS OF A SOUND TRAINING PROGRAM RESISTANCE TRAINING

The resistance training programs are individually designed and are focused on ground-based, three-dimensional, multi-joint movements. Ground-based exercises are done with the athlete's feet on the ground. Performing exercises with the feet on the ground mimics the athletic movements performed in football.

Three-dimensional movements are performed in all three planes of movement: side to side, up and down, and forward and backward. To accomplish this, the athlete must use free weights. Free weights will develop not only the primary muscles, but the stabilizing muscles as well.

Multi-joint exercises require the body to simultaneously move multiple joints in a coordinated effort in order to produce athletic movements.

Explosive training is essential for the game of football. The body's ability to apply force quickly will determine the athlete's success on the field. Explosive training takes the strength an athlete has and improves his ability to deliver that strength forcefully and rapidly.

"This incredible facility helped me earn all the honors I was so privileged to receive while I was at Nebraska. When you combine the facility with Coach Dobson and his outstanding staff, there is not a better strength and conditioning program in the country."

Ndamukong Suh, Nebraska All-American (2009)

CONDITIONING

It is important to condition like a football player. Football is a game that consists of short bursts of activity followed by a rest. It is important to follow this pattern when performing conditioning drills. Position-specific conditioning also needs to be addressed.

SPEED TRAINING

The game of football is dominated by acceleration and agility and will be a focal point during speed training. Acceleration is the ability to get to top speed in the smallest amount of time possible. Acceleration is critical to the success of the football player. Agility is the ability to change direction without losing speed.

POSITION SPECIFIC TRAINING

It is important to address the specific demands each position requires to play football. Each athlete will undergo specific training sessions to address the skills and techniques needed to be successful at the position he plays. Position specific training will greatly enhance on-field performance.

THE INJURED ATHLETE

We have constant communication with the Athletic Medicine Staff in order to plan a successful training program to promote an athlete's prompt and safe return to competition.

"The University of Nebraska's Athletic Department has a history of supporting its student-athletes. Nebraska is committed to providing the best facilities, equipment and atmosphere conductive to training the football player."

James Dobson, Head Football Strength Coach

BOWL TRADITION

The holiday plans of Nebraska football teams and thousands of Husker fans have traditionally included travel to a bowl game. Nebraska has participated in 48 bowls in the history of the program, including an NCAA-record 35 consecutive bowls from 1969 to 2003. The Huskers have won 10 of their last 16 bowl games, including three victories in national championship games.

HUSKER BOWL FACTS

- Nebraska ranks fourth all-time with 48 bowl appearances in the history of the program.
- Nebraska owns 24 all-time bowl victories, including 10 wins in its last 16 bowl games.
- Coach Bo Pelini is 3-2 in bowl games at Nebraska, including a 17-3 win over Michigan State as the interim head coach in the 2003 Alamo Bowl. In 2009, Pelini led the Huskers to their first bowl game shutout in school history with a 33-0 win against Arizona in the Holiday Bowl.
- During the past 28 seasons, Nebraska has played in nine Orange Bowls, five Fiesta Bowls, two Sugar Bowls and one Rose Bowl.
- The Huskers have played a top-five team in 16 of their last 25 bowl games.
- Nebraska has appeared in 14 different bowl games. The Huskers earned their first-ever bowl bid to the 1941 Rose Bowl.

Nebraska enjoyed a fun-filled week in Orlando during its trip to the 2012 Capital One Bowl. In addition to preparing for the game, the Huskers enjoyed time at Disney World, DisneyQuest Experience and Universal Studios.

COVERING THE BOWLS

The images on this page represent the bowl program covers from each of Nebraska's 48 all-time bowl games. The Huskers' rich bowl tradition dates back 71 years to their first bowl appearance in the 1941 Rose Bowl. Nebraska made its first of 17 Orange Bowl appearances in 1955. The Huskers have won four national championships in Miami, including their most recent title in the 1998 game. Nebraska added a national title in the 1996 Fiesta Bowl, one of six trips to Arizona. In Coach Bo Pelini's four years at Nebraska, the Huskers have played bowl games in Florida and California.

HUSKERS IN THE NFL

NEBRASKA FOOTBALL IN THE NFL

Nebraska owns one of the most impressive histories of any school with players in the National Football League. Over 300 former Huskers have represented Nebraska in the NFL. Over the past 16 years, Nebraska ranks second among all Big Ten Conference programs with 76 players chosen during the NFL Draft. The Huskers have been especially impressive with defensive players, with 49 former Huskers chosen since 1997.

As of June 15, Nebraska had 49 former players on NFL rosters, including 13 players with four or more years of experience and two with a decade of time in the league. Nebraska is represented on rosters of 22 of 32 NFL teams.

"I had a fantastic football career at Nebraska and thanks to my coaches and support staff, I have learned the value of hard work, teamwork and life skills."

-Ndamukong Suh

Bob Brown (top left) became Nebraska's third inductee in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in August of 2004, joining Guy Chamberlin and William (Roy) Lyman.

Will Shields (bottom left), a 12-time Pro Bowl lineman for the Kansas City Chiefs, was named the NFL Man of the Year in 2003 and is widely expected to be a future Hall of Famer. He retired following the 2006 season and was selected to the College Football Hall of Fame in May of 2011.

A total of 51 former Huskers have made 66 appearances in the Super Bowl, and at least one Husker has appeared in 18 of the last 19 Super Bowls, including Prince Amukamara of the 2011 champion New York Giants. NU Head Coach Bo Pelini also has Super Bowl experience, working as an assistant secondary coach with San Francisco in Super Bowl XXIX.

HEISMAN TRADITION

Nebraska is a hotbed for exceptional athletes to earn national honors. In 2001, Nebraska quarterback Eric Crouch became Nebraska's third Heisman Trophy winner, while also taking home the Davey O'Brien Award and the Walter Camp Player-of-the Year Award. Husker players have won a nation-leading nine Outland Trophies, five Lombardi Awards and three Heisman Trophies. In 2009, defensive tackle Ndamukong Suh became one of the nation's most decorated defensive players. Suh captured the Outland, Lombardi, Bronko Nagurski and Chuck Bednarik awards, while also being named the Associated Press College Player of the Year. He was also the first defensive lineman to be a finalist for the Heisman in 15 seasons and finished fourth in the voting for the award.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS ALL SPORTS AS OF AUGUST 2012

|                                                                                    |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
|  | 299 |
|  | 223 |
|  | 183 |
|  | 175 |

The success of Nebraska student-athletes reaches far beyond athletic competition. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams (299) than any other school in the nation, and Nebraska has produced more NCAA Top Eight Award winners (16) than any other school. As it enters its second season of Big Ten Conference competition in 2012-13, Nebraska continues to set the standard for the approximately 1,400 NCAA member institutions.

The Husker football team leads all individual sport programs in the nation with 102 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-America awards. The Penn State football program ranks second among all sports nationally with 60 all-time academic All-Americans. In fact, Nebraska's 102 football academic All-Americans would rank among the top 25 schools (all sports, all divisions) in the nation in the number of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. The NU volleyball program has captured more academic All-America awards (36) than any other women's team in the nation, while the Husker softball program ranks second on that list with 29 selections. Nebraska also ranks among the top 10 schools in the nation in CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in baseball, women's basketball and men's and women's track and field/cross country. Over the past two years, the men's and women's track and field programs have produced 10 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans - the most in the nation during that span.

HUSKERS BUILD ON ACADEMIC TRADITION IN 2011-12

Husker student-athletes produced another stellar year at the University of Nebraska, continuing NU's tradition of academic success. Nebraska increased its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports to 299 with a Big Ten Conference-leading eight honorees in 2011-12. A total of 190 Husker student-athletes captured academic All-Big Ten honors, while Huskers earned 667 spots on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll during the fall and spring semesters.

The Nebraska football team led an impressive showing in the classroom for the Huskers, as Austin Cassidy, Rex Burkhead and Sean Fisher all claimed CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. Cassidy, who became the 24th Husker football player in history to be a two-time academic All-American, earned first-team honors as a senior safety. Cassidy was joined on the first team by Burkhead, who rolled to 1,357 rushing yards as a junior I-back in 2011. Fisher, a junior linebacker, added second-team CoSIDA Academic All-America accolades. A total of 47 Husker football players earned bachelor's degrees in 2011-12, while 27 Huskers earned academic All-Big Ten awards.

Track and field All-Americans Tyler Hitchler and Ashley Miller led an impressive season for Coach Gary Pepin's program. Hitchler, an All-American on and off the track during his career, claimed Nebraska's Male Student-Athlete-of-the-Year award. A first-team All-American in the discus in 2012, Hitchler was also NU's male recipient of the Big Ten Medal of Honor. A two-time Nebraska Student-Athlete HERO Leadership Award winner and a four-time member of the Nebraska Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Hitchler was accepted into medical school at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. Miller, a three-time All-American on the track, was a co-captain of both the NU women's cross country and track and field teams in 2011-12. The 2011 CoSIDA Academic All-American was NU's female recipient of the Big Ten Medal of Honor and the women's track and field team's Big Ten Sportsmanship Award winner. The track and field program added a trio of 2012 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, led by senior Bjorn Barrefors who became just the 13th Husker in history across all sports to be a three-time academic All-American. The multi-eventer from Stockholm, Sweden, was joined on the 2012 first team by senior Nate Polacek, who earned a spot on the academic All-America team for the second straight season. Junior distance runner Brett Grieb added a third-team CoSIDA Academic All-America award.

The Nebraska wrestling team also produced a pair of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans for the first time in program history. Heavyweight Tucker Lane claimed first-team honors to close his career as a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American. Lane, who also earned a prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship worth $7,500, was joined by second-team academic All-American Josh Ihnen. The junior added All-America honors on the mat as well for the Huskers in 2012.

Across all sports, Nebraska student-athletes claimed 190 academic All-Big Ten selections,

MEDIA ATTENTION

Nebraska football is among the most recognized college programs in the nation. Television, newspapers, magazines, radio, and the Internet keep Nebraska in the national spotlight. Nebraska has been a regular stop for ESPN's College GameDay, most recently hosting the show for the USC weekend in 2007.

NEBRASKA IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Nebraska, which had all 13 games televised in 2011, has averaged more than eight television appearances per year since 1980. The Huskers' TV exposure increased with the addition of the Big Ten Network in 2011-12. The Big Ten Conference media agreements ensure that every Nebraska football game will be televised.

BTN is on the air 24 hours per day, 365 days a year. The network annually televises nearly 400 live events and streams an additional 300 plus events. Each year's schedule is comprised of approximately 40-45 football games. Every BTN football game telecast is surrounded by Big Ten Football Saturday, the network's pre-game, halftime and post-game show hosted by Dave Revsine and analysts Gerry DiNardo and Howard Griffith. In addition to live events in all sports, the network also airs numerous studio shows and classic games.

Nebraska football can be heard statewide and across the nation on the IMG Husker Sports Network. The games can also be heard on Sirius Satellite Radio and live worldwide on the Internet at Huskers.com. Approximately four million fans per month visit Huskers.com during football season.

Nebraska football has been a fixture on national television for more than 50 years, since being featured on the first-ever television broadcast of a college game by NBC on Sept. 19, 1953. Since then, the Huskers have played on TV 317 more times, including 148 appearances on ABC.

The Huskers are also often in the spotlight in the postseason, enjoying national recognition for the many bowls Nebraska has competed in recently, such as the Capital One Bowl in 2012, televised to a national audience on ESPN.

Nebraska has ended the season ranked among the Associated Press Top 25 in 37 of the past 42 seasons.

"You always want to play your best, no matter who you're playing. That's why you come to Nebraska – to play in big bowl games, championship games, nationally televised games."

just two shy of its Big 12-record-setting total of 192 in 2010-11. The Husker baseball (17), women's tennis (7), bowling (4) and women's rifle (4) teams all led the Big Ten in academic All-Big Ten selections, while the NU football (27), softball (10) and men's golf teams (6) all ranked second among conference schools.

Over the past four years, Nebraska has claimed nearly 740 academic all-conference certificates across all sports. Huskers also earned 667 spots on the first Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll, which recognizes student-athletes who produce 3.0 or better grade-point averages in the fall or spring semesters. Husker student-athletes also produced 92 perfect 4.0 GPA semesters during the 2011-12 academic year.

The hard work, dedication and commitment of Nebraska's student-athletes in the classroom resulted in a record-setting 155 current or former student-athletes earning degrees from August of 2011 through May of 2012.

Each spring Nebraska hosts its annual Student-Athlete Recognition Banquet to honor Huskers who have earned either a 3.0 or higher cumulative GPA or have earned a 3.0 or higher GPA in the previous calendar year. In the spring of 2012, Husker student-athletes earned 321 academic honors medallions.

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

On July 1, 2011, the University of Nebraska became an official member of the Big Ten Conference, increasing the Big Ten's membership to 12 institutions for the first time in conference history. The addition of Nebraska marked the Big Ten's first expansion since Penn State University joined the conference in June of 1990. The Big Ten Conference is a union of 12 world-class academic institutions – who share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. The conference's 100-plus years of history, strong tradition of competitive intercollegiate athletic programs, vast and passionate alumni base, and consistent leadership in innovations position the Big Ten and its entire community firmly on the Big Stage.

The Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness in all aspects of its student-athletes' lives, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that each individual has the opportunity to live a Big Life.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

- Big Ten universities provide approximately $136 million in direct financial aid to nearly 10,000 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships.
- Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with 298 teams. Other than the Ivy League, the Big Ten has the most broad-based athletic programs in the United States.
- Big Ten fans are some of the nation's most supportive, with nearly 10 million patrons attending conference home contests for football, men's and women's basketball and volleyball during 2011-12. In 2011, the Big Ten set new records for overall football attendance and surpassed the six-million mark for all games for the first time. During the 2011 volleyball campaign, the Big Ten led the nation with a total attendance of nearly 420,000. The Big Ten led the country in average attendance for the 36th straight season.
- Over the last 33 seasons, the conference has ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 nationally in football, men's basketball and wrestling attendance.
- The Big Ten leads all conferences with more than 4.5 million living alumni and 320,000 undergraduate students
- Based on the U.S. Census projected population for 2010, the nine-state Big Ten region accounts for approximately 70 million people, which ranks second only to the Big East and well ahead of the ACC, SEC, Pac-10 and Big 12.

FOOTBALL FACTS

- Nebraska completely in the Legends Division, which includes Iowa, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota and Northwestern, while the Leaders Division includes Illinois, Indiana, Ohio State, Penn State, Purdue and Wisconsin.
- Including Nebraska (846 wins), four of the eight schools with 800 all-time wins are members of the Big Ten. Other Big Ten schools with 800 wins include Michigan (895), Ohio State (825) and Penn State (817). Since 1970, Nebraska leads the nation with 412 wins, while Michigan ranks third with 378 wins. Penn State is fourth with 375 wins while Ohio State is fifth with 372 wins.
- Two Big Ten schools were selected for BCS games in 2011 for the 10th time in the 14-year history of the system. The Big Ten leads all conferences with 24 BCS berths and ranks second with 11 BCS wins.
- The Big Ten split a pair of BCS games last season to improve to 3-2 in BCS contests over the last three years, the conference's most BCS victories over three seasons since going 3-2 from 2003-05.
- The Big Ten is one of two conferences to win at least three BCS games the last three seasons. The Big Ten leads all conferences with seven wins against BCS top-16 teams over the last three years.
- In the 33 seasons the NCAA tracked attendance, the Big Ten led the nation 15 times.
- Seven Big Ten teams (including Nebraska) averaged more than 80,000 fans per home game in 2010, including Michigan, Penn State, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Michigan State and Iowa.

BIG TEN NETWORK

Headquartered in Chicago, the Big Ten Network is the first internationally distributed television network dedicated to covering one of America's premier collegiate conferences.

With more than 350 live sports events, and virtually all of them in high definition, the Big Ten Network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country. The network is on the air 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

The network is available to an estimated 80 million households, through agreements with more than 300 cable/satellite affiliates.

In 2011, every Big Ten home football game was nationally televised. Including road and neutral games, 98 percent (94 of 96) of Big Ten games were televised nationally and the other two road games appeared on ESPN3.com

WALK-ONS

"Loyalty. Motivation. Willingness to Sacrifice."

Nebraska Athletic Director Tom Osborne, a Hall of Fame Coach from 1973 to 1997, has used those words to describe Nebraska's walk-on program.

The tradition of the Cornhusker walk-on program is one-of-a-kind in college football. Hundreds of young men from towns in all corners of the state have come to Nebraska with big dreams. Many players have excelled beyond their biggest dreams. Osborne and Head Coach Bo Pelini have made a priority of building on the past success of the Husker walk-on program.

WELCOME TO LINCOLN

Featuring the advantages of an urban setting, the city of Lincoln is home to the University of Nebraska campus, and is only minutes away from the scenic beauty and wide open spaces of America's Heartland. Living in Lincoln enables Nebraska student-athletes to enjoy the benefits of city life, while residing in a community that consistently ranks among the nation's best in overall quality of life.

- Also known as the Star City, Lincoln sports a population of nearly 260,000, making it the third largest city in the Big Ten.
- Lincoln was voted the No. 2 U.S. City in Quality of Life in the Gallup-Healthways Well-Being Index in 2011.
- Forbes.com ranked Lincoln as one of the nation's "Most Livable Cities" while ranking it fifth-best for business and careers in 2010. Forbes also ranked Lincoln as the fifth safest city in the United States.
- Lincoln was listed as a "Best Sport City" by the Sporting News in 2009.
- RelocateAmerica.com ranked Lincoln as one of its Top 10 College Towns in 2010.
- The city of Lincoln consistently lists one of the lowest crime rates in the nation.
- Lincoln's Public School system was recently ranked as one of the top five in the nation by Expansion Management magazine.
- With more than 6,000 acres of parks, including 10 lakes, 11 municipal swimming pools, more than 80 miles of biking and hiking trails and 12 public golf courses, Lincoln offers more park land per capita than any other city in the United States.
- Lincoln is a three-hour drive away from Kansas City, as well as a day trip to Chicago, Minneapolis and Denver.

Canopy Street is an eight block expansion of Lincoln's popular Historic Haymarket District, which will include over $498 million dollars of private and public investment, including the new 15,300-seat Pinnacle Arena, over 6,000 new parking stalls, a new hotel, retail, office, and several different housing options.

The state capital of Nebraska, Lincoln is a growing city that features activities for citizens of all ages and interests. Lincoln is a scenic city including the Sunken Gardens in the middle of town. The Sunken Gardens features an annual floral display of more than 30,000 plants. The Haymarket District is full of entertainment and dining options and is just blocks from the UNL Campus. The historic state capitol building provides the centerpiece of the downtown area, and famed "O" Street provides numerous options for nightlife and entertainment for UNL students.

BO PELINI

Head Coach Bo Pelini's success in his first four seasons as the Huskers' head coach puts him in a class with many of the elite coaches in college football's recent history.

- Pelini has guided Nebraska to nine or more wins in each of his first four seasons, joining Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne and Frank Solich as the only Nebraska coaches to accomplish that feat.
- Nebraska is one of only eight schools nationally to win at least nine games each of the past four seasons.
- Among current BCS Conference schools, Pelini is just the sixth first-time head coach in NCAA history to win nine games in each of his first four seasons. Among all head coaches at BCS schools, Pelini is just the 15th coach to win nine games in each of his first four seasons and the first since Urban Meyer at Florida in 2005 to 2008.
- Pelini's 38 wins over the past four seasons are the most among any of the 18 head coaches who were hired prior to the 2008 season. In fact, only six of those coaches remain in that job entering the 2012 campaign.
- Pelini's 38 wins in his first four seasons are tied for the second most among Nebraska coaches in their first four seasons.
- Pelini has guided Nebraska to at least a share of a division title in three of his first four seasons on the Husker sideline.

N HUSKER ALL-AMERICANS

The Nebraska football team has continually seen players nominated — and win — major awards throughout the years, and that has certainly included All-America honorees.

Over the years, 96 Huskers have earned All-America honors, including 14 players who earned more than one honor. There have been 110 first-team awards and 46 consensus All-Americans on the Nebraska sidelines. Those players earned a total of 56 consensus All-America honors.

The NCAA's Top Eight Award

The highest honor the National Collegiate Athletic Association can bestow on a student-athlete is The Top Eight Award. The award is based not only on outstanding athletic accomplishments, but on excellent academic records and leadership ability in community and campus activities.

In 1998, the University of Nebraska had one of its student-athletes earn the Top Eight Award, as All-America rush end Grant Wistrom was honored at the NCAA honors dinner. Wistrom's selection gave Nebraska nine Top Eight honorees in the 1990s. Two Huskers received the award in both 1990 and 1991, the only times that a school has had more than one student-athlete honored. Nine of Nebraska's Top Eight picks were football players, making the Husker grid program the most decorated in the country.

A two-time first-team academic All-American, Wistrom set the school record for tackles for loss (58.5) and was second with 26.5 career sacks. A two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, Wistrom was a consensus All-American and won NU's fourth Lombardi Award in 1997. Wistrom joined fellow Top Eight award winners Dave Rimington and Trev Alberts as NFL first-round draft picks, as Wistrom was selected by the St. Louis Rams with the No. 6 pick in the 1998 NFL Draft. Off the field, Wistrom received postgraduate scholarships from the National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame and the NCAA. He was honored in 2009 as he was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame.

In the 1990s, six Husker football players were awarded the Top Eight honor, including Aaron Graham (1996), Rob Zatechka (1995), Trev Alberts (1994), Pat Tyrance (1991) and Jake Young (1990). Nebraska's success in the classroom also extends to other sports, as the Husker volleyball team boasts four winners, including 2008 winner Sarah Pavan, while three NU gymnasts (two men, one woman) have also claimed NCAA Top Eight honors.

Austin Cassidy earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors in both 2010 and 2011, becoming the 14th Husker football player to earn the honor more than once.

CoSIDA Academic All-Americans

The Nebraska football team has a rich history of academic excellence, as evidenced by the team's 67 first-team College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Academic All-America certificates through the years. Fifty-three players have earned the honor, including 14 who won in multiple years, while 46 of the awards have been won in the past three decades. Four other Huskers were selected to academic All-America squads by groups other than CoSIDA, giving Nebraska a total of 71 first-team academic All-Americans. The Huskers lead the nation with 299 academic All-Americans across all sports, including 102 football selections, the most of any program in the country.

A Well Executed Play That Racks Up A Win. That's Logistics.

The coach makes the call. Every player is in the right place at the right time. The score is made. And the huge crowd roars its approval. That's logistics. The coordination of personnel and equipment designed to achieve the best possible results. At UPS, we understand logistics.

We live logistics. We love logistics.

Tom Osborne (left) and Bob Devaney (right) combined to lead Nebraska to five national titles and 28 consecutive nine-win seasons from 1970 to 1997.

The Devaney Society

Achieving greatness in both the classroom and on the playing field has long been a goal of the University of Nebraska. Our nation-leading 299 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans and 24 team national titles reflect the manner in which we strive to achieve to the highest level.

Rising costs have made funding these athletic scholarships increasingly difficult. To help offset the expenses, the University of Nebraska established an athletic scholarship endowment fund to honor Hall of Fame Football Coach Bob Devaney. For his tenacious commitment to hard work and success, we honor Coach Devaney with our commitment to establish an endowment to fund athletic scholarships at the University of Nebraska. We are sincerely grateful to those who committed to our future stability by establishing a Devaney Society Scholarship for male or female student-athletes.

Huskers Athletic Fund is the fundraising arm of the Nebraska Athletic Department. We also handle premium seating for football, volleyball, men's and women's basketball and baseball.

The Huskers Athletic Fund's mission is to support Husker Athletics through private giving and volunteer leadership.

We offer many ways to support Husker Athletics: seat-related giving, annual support for over 600 student-athletes competing in 23 sports, capital projects, other fundraising priorities and planned giving. When you give to any one of these areas, you become a part of a great tradition and the Husker family.

Huskers Athletic Fund Annual Levels:

- Legends – $50,000 and Above
- Leaders – $25,000 - $49,999
- All-American – $10,000 - $24,999
- Directors – $5,000 - $9,999

THE TIME IT TAKES A CONCUSSION TO HAVE AN IMPACT ON THE REST OF YOUR LIFE.

But if identified, diagnosed and treated properly, life-threatening effects of concussions can be prevented.

To learn about Nebraska's concussion law, how to detect a concussion, treat the symptoms and prevent the unthinkable, visit www.biane.org.

Predictable, right? Just when you're pretty sure your window to spray for weeds has opened up, Mother Nature slams it shut. But if you've got SureStart® herbicide ready to go, you're not worried about a nasty storm or two. SureStart provides flexibility to spray corn from preplant to postemergence. And it performs under heavy weed pressure because three modes of action control weeds three ways. There's a lot out there you can't be sure of. Then there's SureStart.

~THE~ HONDA RULES OF TAILGATING

1. NO EXCESSIVE NOISE.

Quality enclosed construction makes Honda EU Series Generators
the super quiet choice.

2. NO SMOKING.

Honda Generators produce less smoke due to cleaner four-stroke engines and no gas and oil mix.

3. NO FALSE STARTS.

Honda's legendary easy starting and superior engineering are built into every Honda Generator.

Juice up your tailgating party with super quiet, completely portable power from a hard working Honda Generator. Whether it's for tailgating, RVing, construction or home backup, Honda is always the MVP.

*Minimum Advertised Price. Please read the owner's manual before operating your Honda Power Equipment and never use in a closed or partly enclosed area where you could be exposed to poisonous carbon monoxide. Connection of a generator to house power requires a transfer device to avoid possible injury to power company personnel. Consult a qualified electrician. ©2012 American Honda Motor Co., Inc.

The region's only women's medical campus

Dr. Somer-Shely
OB/GYN

When you create a women's medical campus from the ground up, it allows you to offer a unique combination of services found nowhere else. That means, from high-risk obstetrics to urogynecology, from pelvic pain and sexual medicine to behavioral health, no other medical campus truly offers a health care experience from your perspective—all in one convenient location. But then again, there's no other place like Methodist. That's the meaning of care. bestcare.org

Automobile dealers in Nebraska and Iowa contribute to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department and are an important part of the "Husker team."

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the primary research and doctoral degree-granting institution in Nebraska. As Nebraska's land-grant university, it serves as the flagship institution of the University of Nebraska system. Officially chartered Feb. 15, 1869, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln grew quickly to become one of the nation's leading state universities. The University of Nebraska was the first university west of the Mississippi River to form a graduate school (1893) and to offer the Ph.D. (1896).

Today UNL ranks among the top 50 institutions awarding the most doctoral degrees. It is a major research university, ranked in the top 20 among public universities for total endowment assets and new gifts. It is home to top researchers in such areas as plant genomics, remote sensing technologies, molecular virology, bioinformatics, food processing, early childhood education and nanoscale technology.

The university's missions are teaching, research and public service. Approximately 24,600 students matriculate through its nine colleges: Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Human Sciences, Engineering, Hixson-Lied Fine and Performing Arts, Journalism and Mass Communications and Law.

A new curriculum, Achievement-Centered Education, launched in 2009, ensures graduates are competent in writing, communications and mathematics; have knowledge of diverse peoples and cultures and of the natural and physical world; understand ethics and social responsibilities; and are able to integrate these abilities to adapt to a changing world. Among UNL's signature undergraduate programs are the Jeffrey S. Raikes School of Computer Science and Management, the UNL Honors Program and the Undergraduate Creative Activities and Research Experiences program.

UNL students participate in comprehensive programs of research as well as scholarly and creative activities. UNL offers 157 undergraduate majors, 79 master's degree programs under 15 separate degree titles and 43 doctoral programs, leading to the degrees of doctor of philosophy, doctor of education and doctor of musical arts. One associate degree program, six professional degree programs and three educational specialist programs are available.

Notable buildings on campus include the June and Paul Schorr III Center for Computer Science and Engineering, housed in the former South Stadium office complex and donated to the university by the Nebraska Athletic Department. The Ken Morrison Life Sciences Research Center, dedicated in 2008, houses laboratories and offices for the Nebraska Center for Virology. The Whittier Building, a former junior high, has been completely restored for use as a research facility. The new Theodore Jorgensen Hall is the home of UNL's Physics and Astronomy department. A building for nanoscience research comes online in 2011.

Faculty members at UNL have earned wide recognition as scholars and scientists. Professor of English Ted Kooser is a Pulitzer-prize winning poet and was the U.S. Poet Laureate (2004-06). James Van Eetten, professor of plant pathology at UNL, is a member of the National Academy of Sciences. English professor Ken Price is creating an internationally significant Web-based archive of the works of Walt Whitman, and recently found an unknown cache of Whitman materials in the National Archives. Geoscientist David Harwood is leading an international team of scientists drilling beneath the Antarctic ice to recover sedimentary cores to reveal information about Antarctica's climate history and about the global climate machine. Nebraska Center for Virology Director Charles Wood is discovering how HIV transmits from infected mothers to children in Zambia.

The multi-million-dollar Diocles Extreme Light Laboratory and physicist Donald Umstadter are putting UNL at the forefront of international high-field physics and laser research. Diocles will enable UNL physicists to create extreme conditions in the laboratory, similar to those at the core of the sun, to study matter and energy in new ways. Another team of UNL physicists has played a significant role in the development of the Large Hadron Collider. The largest physics experiment in history, the collider operates near Geneva, Switzerland.

The university reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The UNL Extension Division provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. An extensive Extended Education and Outreach program offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and NUTech Ventures expedites university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes. Work is under way at Nebraska Innovation Campus, which is envisioned as a public-private sector research campus.

UNL is home to the renowned Sheldon Museum of Art, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art, the Robert Hillestad Textiles Gallery and several other museums, including the University of Nebraska State Museum of natural history, which boasts a world-class fossil collection. In spring 2008, the university opened the International Quilt Study Center and Museum. The facility displays the largest publicly held collection of historic quilts and is supports research into quilts and quilt makers.

Among the university's renowned alumni are naturalist and author Loren Eiseley; Nobel prize-winners George Beadle, Donald Cram and Alan Heeger; artists Aaron Douglas and Weldon Kees; investor Warren Buffett; comedian Johnny Carson; singer Barbara Hendricks; artist and engineer Harold Edgerton; military officer John J. Pershing; and authors Willa Cather and Mari Sandoz.

NSF GRANT TO GUIDE UNL-DEVELOPED IRRIGATION MANAGEMENT TOOL TO MARKET

By Jean Ortiz Jones, University Communications

In the midst of the worst drought in more than half a century, U.S. farmers are drawing on their best defenses — the center pivot and their experience dealing with some of the harshest conditions Mother Nature can deal.

Now a University of Nebraska-Lincoln computer engineer is preparing to give them a new tool for their irrigation management arsenal — one that has the potential to decrease costs, conserve water, and improve yields.

Mehmet Can Vuran, assistant professor of computer science and engineering, has spent years developing wireless underground sensor networks to give agricultural producers real-time information about soil moisture and changing conditions that would allow them to more efficiently manage irrigation. He's had the help of doctoral student Xin Dong, as well as a five-year, $418,760 grant from the National Science Foundation's Faculty Early Career Development Program to further develop the technology.

Now, a new grant will help them take the idea to market. Vuran, Dong and their entrepreneurial team have been awarded a $50,000 NSF Innovation Corps award. Known as the I-Corps, the program's goal is to guide toward commercialization promising scientific discoveries that offer great benefits to society.

The team will use the grant to assess the viability of the technology for a new start-up enterprise. The team also will complete a specially designed training curriculum and present their products to venture capitalists at the end of the six-month program.

NSF specifically sought out discoveries that offer near-term benefits to society or the economy.

The team also is working with NUtech Ventures, the nonprofit corporation responsible for the university's technology development, to commercialize this technology.

While sensors are not new technology to agricultural fields, current tools available have significant limits, Vuran said. His wireless technology can transmit information from the soil to a center pivot irrigation system or even a base station up to 25 feet away. Such information will determine when and how much to water crops. Existing technology, meanwhile, is limited to just a few feet of transmission, lacks the ability to get the data in real time, and is still largely focused on observing atmospheric conditions, he said.

"If you look at most of the technology for irrigation management, we're still looking at the sky," he said. "But with this technology, we're basically trying to get into the soil and let the soil tell us what to do."

The I-Corps award represents one more vote of confidence for the technology's promise for the future, and it's also a unique learning opportunity, Vuran said.

"That's huge because one of the challenges we have with any type of research is the gap between the technology developed in research labs and the technology that is used in the world," he said. "This program aims to minimize that gap."

The UNL team is among 55 winners nationwide in this round of the program that was established by NSF in 2011. A team led by UNL chemist Stephen DiMagno was among the inaugural winners and has since gone on to establish a startup company that develops new imaging agents for staging and management of certain cancers and neurological disorders.

In their pursuit, Vuran and Dong are joined by two other expert team members. Stephen Reichenbach, professor of computer science and engineering, will serve as mentor. He has experience as a successful entrepreneur and in transitioning academic research into real world applications. Suat Irmak has been named team adviser. Irmak is a professor of biological systems engineering, interim director of the Nebraska Water Center and he leads the Nebraska Agricultural Water Management Network. He is well connected to Nebraska farmers and the irrigation industry.

Dong, a fourth-year Ph.D. student in Computer Science and Engineering, will fill the role of entrepreneurial lead. The experience will offer him the training necessary to lead a start-up company built on the technology. Dong has worked with Vuran since 2009, including conducting field experiments in Clay Center, Neb. Dong even took agriculture classes to learn more about the properties of soil and water to help him develop the antenna technology that could work through all of it.

"For me, this is like a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity," Dong said. "The I-Corps grant gives me the opportunity to put my research into real life and use it to help other people — to help farmers."

Stephen Reichenbach (from left), Xin Dong, Mehmet Can Vuran and Suat Irmak are working on a project to develop wireless underground sensor networks to give agricultural producers real-time information about soil moisture and changing conditions that would allow them to more efficiently manage irrigation. ## Selway Industries

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big Ten Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA PRINCIPLES

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA and the Big Ten Conference.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

DEFINITIONS

Q: What is a booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either.

REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What is a Prospective Student-Athlete?

A: A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a Nebraska booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Q: What is a Student-Athlete?

A: A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program. A student begins status as a student-athlete with enrollment in the summer prior to the initial date of full-time enrollment or the first semester of full-time enrollment, whichever is earlier.

Q: What is a contact?

A: Contact is ANY face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Q: What is recruiting?

A: Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by an athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in Nebraska's intercollegiate athletic program.

GUIDELINES

Q: What constitutes impermissible contact by a Booster?

A: Phone calls to prospects (9th to 12th grade) and their relatives placed for recruiting purposes (questions about the athletic program at UNL must be directed to the coach); writing, paging, text messages or instant messages to a prospect to encourage UNL attendance; contact with a prospect at a high school or club contest; contact with a prospect via any form of social media (e.g. Twitter, Facebook); contact with a prospect or his/her coach, principal, or counselor to evaluate the prospect; visiting the prospect's educational institution to pick up videotape or transcripts for evaluation purposes; contacting a prospect to congratulate him/her for signing a National Letter of Intent to attend UNL; giving anything of value to a prospect to induce him/her to attend UNL; contact of any kind while the prospect is on the UNL campus for an official or unofficial visit. RECRUITING CONTACTS, NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What are the rules of employment for a student-athlete?

A: A student-athlete may be employed during the academic year or summer vacation period; receive compensation equal to the going rate for similar services in the locale; receive compensation only for work performed; receive benefits provided to all other employees; teach sport-related individual skill instruction or fee-for-lesson sessions. A student-athlete may not conduct personal sport camps or promote, market, advertise or endorse a commercial business or product.

Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan. EMPLOYMENT, NCAA BYLAW 12

Q: What are non-permissible benefits?

A: Free or reduced-fee housing/rent including the use of vacation or seasonal homes; free or reduced-fee meals; loans or cash advances in pay or salary; tuition costs or school supply expenses; gifts or presents of any type regardless of the occasion or purpose; use of telephone for long distance or use of telephone cards and cell phones; free use of any motor vehicle, boat or recreational vehicle; free use of services (i.e., automobile repair, hair care, laundry, copying, faxing, etc.); free or reduced-fee memberships at golf courses, health clubs, etc. (This list is not exhaustive. Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.) BENEFITS AND PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT, NCAA BYLAW 16

Q: What type of promotional activities may the student-athlete be permitted to participate?

A: Charitable, educational or non-profit promotions and events with requested approval from the Athletic Compliance Office prior to the event.

Q: What types of promotional activities are not permissible?

A: Any fundraising activity that supports a high school organization or group that assists prospective-aged students; use of his/her name or picture; or appear to promote or market a commercial business or product. PROMOTIONAL ACTIVITIES, NCAA BYLAW 12

Notice of NCAA Probation

From 2007 to 2010 the University of Nebraska unintentionally reimbursed student-athletes for recommended textbooks as well as required textbooks through a failure to properly administer and monitor book scholarships. Only reimbursement for required books is permissible under NCAA rules. As a result the NCAA placed the University of Nebraska on two-year probation, beginning in January 2012. The NCAA did not impose additional penalties such as the loss of scholarships, forfeiture of games or a ban on postseason play. Rather, as a condition of probation we will continue to educate student-athletes and staff thoroughly on NCAA bylaws and will notify prospective student-athletes of our probationary status.

For further information regarding NCAA Guidelines for Athletic Representatives, please contact the athletic compliance office at (402) 472-2042 or 1-(800) 927-7220. Inquiries may also be mailed to: Athletic Compliance Office, One Memorial Stadium, P.O. Box 880219, Lincoln, NE, 68588-0219. Fax: (402) 472-4609 or e-mail compliance@huskers.com.

Hall of Fame football coach Tom Osborne has continued to leave a lasting impression on the history of Nebraska Athletics since returning to lead the Husker program as the school's 13th athletic director on Oct. 16, 2007. Osborne, who led Nebraska to three national championships (1994, 1995, 1997) and 255 victories in his 25 years as the Huskers' head football coach, has continued to use his impressive leadership skills to guide the NU athletic department as a whole over the past four seasons.

With the core values of integrity, trust, respect, teamwork and loyalty serving as guiding principles for Nebraska's 23-sport program as a whole, Osborne has made historic decisions to help the University of Nebraska athletic programs for years to come.

In June of 2010, Osborne joined Nebraska Chancellor Harvey Perlman and Big Ten Conference Commissioner Jim Delany to announce the Huskers would join the Big Ten beginning on July 1, 2011. Nebraska's move to the Big Ten will continue to add University-wide academic opportunities, while providing financial stability for the athletic department for years to come.

Just a few months later, Osborne announced an aggressive expansion plan for the east side of Memorial Stadium that will increase attendance past 90,000 for the first time, while continuing Nebraska's NCAA record-setting sellout streak. The expansion, which is set for completion before the 2013 football season, will include athletic and academic research components.

In the spring of 2010, the city of Lincoln also received voter approval to begin construction on the 16,000-seat Pinnacle Bank Arena, which will serve as the new competitive home for both Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs beginning in 2013-14.

The basketball programs, the wrestling program and many of NU's other sports also have benefitted from the new Hendricks Training Complex at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The facility, which opened in October of 2011, includes practice and team areas, and greatly expanded athletic medicine and strength training areas.

The Nebraska baseball and softball programs also received a new indoor practice facility that opened in the fall of 2001 at Haymarket Park.

The first step in Osborne's aggressive building plan for Nebraska's facilities began in the summer of 2010, as the Huskers broke ground on the Student Life Complex on the west side of Memorial Stadium. The Student Life Complex, which opened in the fall of 2010, directly benefits every Husker student-athlete with expanded academic resources.

While Osborne has helped initiate landmark moves off the field, he has continued to help coaches and student-athletes focus on Nebraska's tradition of competitive success.

In 2011-12, 10 Husker teams finished among the top 25 in the nation, including the Nebraska football team's New Year's Day appearance in the Capital One Bowl.

One of Osborne's first major decisions as athletic director was to hire Bo Pelini as the Huskers' football coach. Pelini, who had spent the 2003 campaign as NU's defensive coordinator, has energized Nebraska's storied tradition with four consecutive nine-win seasons. Pelini's Huskers have finished among the Associated Press top 25 in each of the last three seasons. The football program also contributed three CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to Nebraska's nation-leading total of 299 all-time, across all sports.

Coach Mark Manning's Husker wrestling program added a pair of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. On the mat, NU tied for 21st at the NCAA Championships despite entering the season in what appeared to be a rebuilding year.

The tradition-rich NU volleyball program captured the Huskers' first-ever Big Ten Conference title in any sport in 2011, finishing No. 12 nationally while advancing to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Coach John Cook's squad has claimed four conference crowns since Osborne's return to Nebraska.

The Husker women's gymnastics team led by Coach Dan Kendig added its first Big Ten championship, while finishing eighth nationally in 2012 for its third straight top 10 finish. The Nebraska women's indoor track and field team contributed another Big Ten title. Coach Gary Pepin's men added a tie for 11th at the NCAA Championships during the outdoor season for its best team finish since 2003, after tying for 23rd at the NCAA Indoor Championships. The NU men's and women's track and field teams have combined for four conference crowns, while producing eight top-20 finishes over the past five years.

The NU women's basketball team produced one of its best seasons in school history by rolling to a 24-9 record that included a run to the Big Ten Tournament championship game. Coach Connie Yori's Huskers finished No. 17 in the final AP poll and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the third time since Osborne's return to Nebraska. The 2010 Huskers ran to the best season in school history with a Big 12 title and an NCAA Sweet 16 berth in 2010.

Coach Scott Jacobson led the Nebraska women's tennis team to the best season in school history in 2012, posting a school-record 24 wins and No. 16 final ranking. The Huskers advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, marking the third straight season the team has advanced to the postseason. The Husker men's tennis program added its first two NCAA appearances in school history in 2010 and 2011.

Coach Bill Straub's bowling team added a third-place finish at the 2012 NCAA Championships, marking the program's fifth straight top-eight showing. The Husker bowlers claimed the 2009 NCAA title. The Husker softball team made three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances from 2009 to 2011, while the Husker women's golf and baseball programs both earned NCAA Regional bids in 2008.

Osborne made his second coaching hire since his return to Nebraska, when he named two-time Major League All-Star, three-time Gold Glove award winner, and former No. 1 MLB Draft pick Darin Erstad as the baseball team's new coach on June 2, 2011. Erstad was not only one of the best Husker baseball players in history, he was the starting punter on NU's 1994 national championship football team coached by Osborne.

The baseball program responded by posting a 35-23 record in his first season. It marked a five-game improvement in the win column over 2011. Osborne made another high-profile hire with the addition of men's basketball coach Tim Miles on March 24, 2012. Osborne also hired former Husker Stacy Underwood as NU's fourth rifle coach on May 24, 2012.

Academically, Nebraska produced eight CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in 2011-12, increasing its nation-leading total to 299 all-time, across all sports. NU also graduated a school record 155 student-athletes from August of 2011 through May of 2012.

Before being asked by Chancellor Perlman to return to Nebraska as athletic director in 2007, Osborne served three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives (Nebraska's 3rd congressional district) from 2000 to 2006.

He returned to academia following a 2006 gubernatorial bid, serving as a senior lecturer at Nebraska in the College of Business Administration, teaching leadership and business ethics, in the fall of 2007. Osborne also worked as a consultant for local college athletic departments for two years.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, continue to pour their time and support into the TeamMates mentoring program, which they founded in 1991. TeamMates provides encouragement to school-aged youth to help them graduate from high school and pursue a post-secondary education.

Osborne's leadership of the TeamMates program began while he was putting the final touches on one of the best coaching careers in college football history. The Hastings, Neb., native, who earned master's and doctoral degrees in educational psychology from the University of Nebraska, was named NU's 25th head coach following the 1972 season.

In 25 seasons with Osborne at the helm, the Huskers mounted a 255-49-3 record - the sixth-most wins in major college history. Osborne's .836 winning percentage ranked fifth all-time. His career came to a close with a 42-17 win over No. 3 Tennessee in the 1998 Orange Bowl, when he became the first coach in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion. Following his career, he became one of just four coaches in history to have the mandatory three-year waiting period waived for induction into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in December of 1998.

Osborne's 1994 and 1995 teams allowed Nebraska to become just the second school in history to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons (Oklahoma 1955-56). Nebraska put together the best five-year run in college football history from 1993 to 1997, going 60-3 with five straight 11-win seasons.

Osborne led NU to 13 conference crowns, including six of his last seven seasons on the sideline. All 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went to a bowl, while 15 won 10-or-more games.

In the classroom, the NU football program totaled 65 CoSIDA Academic All-America awards in Osborne's 25 years. In fact, he accumulated more football academic All-Americans in his 25 years as coach than any other football program in the nation has produced in its history.

Prior to becoming head coach, Osborne spent five seasons under Devaney, helping the Huskers win back-to-back national championships in 1970 and 1971. In 1973, Osborne succeeded Devaney, who also served as Nebraska's Athletic Director from 1967 to 1993.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, have three adult children, Mike, Ann and Suzanne and four grandchildren.

Nebraska Spirit Squad

The Nebraska Spirit Squad's involvement in the community and the athletic department makes it one of the most high-profile programs in the nation. The Spirit Squad is made up of three groups - Cheer Squad, Scarlets Dance team and the mascots, Herbie Husker and Lil' Red.

Currently, the Nebraska Spirit Squad consists of 20 Cheer Squad members, 15 Scarlets and four mascot assistants. Along with academics and athletic events, Spirit Squad members participate in conditioning workouts, practices and team meetings around 10 hours per week. Last year, the squad made more than 200 philanthropic appearances at community and state events.

Tryouts for the Spirit Squad are held during the spring semester. For more information on the Spirit Squad or to learn about tryouts, visit Huskers.com/spiritsquad or call (402) 472-4622.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

There is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you knew.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

HUSKER 'CHARACTER' FUELS UPLIFTING ATHLETES CHAPTER

By Randy York

Wednesday, July 18, 2012, became an historic day for Nebraska football, and it had nothing to do with a top-level recruiting commitment, a conference championship or a national title. The day was inspiring, moving and meaningful in a different sense because 47 Husker players bonded to form the nucleus of Chapter No. 14 supporting Uplifting Athletes, a national nonprofit organization that aligns college football programs with rare diseases. Each chapter chooses a rare disease and then elevates it to a national priority through outreach, research, education and advocacy.

"The Nebraska chapter is the most advanced starting chapter we've ever had because its launch on day one is comparable to other chapters beginning year three," said Scott Shirley, the executive director and chairman of Uplifting Athletes. The organization named Rex Burkhead, Nebraska's All-Big Ten running back, the 2012 Rare Disease Champion Award winner last spring after he collected 76,000 votes in a national poll.

On the night commencing Nebraska's official chapter status, Shirley addressed the 47 Huskers who designated pediatric brain cancer as the rare disease for which their chapter will raise funds and create national awareness. "Being in the room with those 47 players, you can see they're a reflection of the type of player Nebraska recruits," Shirley said. "They were there because they want to make a big impact. They were very attentive. They asked very good questions, and they were great examples of the character Coach (Bo) Pelini recruits. They were the most supportive and knowledgeable group we've ever launched."

Zimmerer, Kellogg, Enunwa Named New Officers

Shirley praised Huskers who were elected officers by fellow members – Omaha's C.J. Zimmerer, a junior fullback as the chapter's first president; Omaha's Ron Kellogg III, a junior quarterback who serves as vice president; and California native Quincy Enunwa, a junior wide receiver who fills the third executive position on a team that gives student-athletes an opportunity to gain practical job skills while learning how to leverage their assets and abilities to make a positive and lasting impact.

"We all know what we've signed up for," said Zimmerer, a Husker player who has Type 1 Diabetes and carries an insulin pump with him at all times except for practice. "Ben Cotton and I both have Type 1, so we have somewhat of an understanding of what we're getting into with this organization because we've done some fund-raising and awareness projects for Juvenile Diabetes. Rex was always updating us on Jack's condition, and we feel like a big part of his cause. Now that we're an official campus organization, we're eager to raise money and increase awareness of the disease he's living with every day. We listened to his dad (Andy Hoffman) describe what Jack's going through, and we know how underfunded research is for this rare disease. The protocol for treating this disease hasn't changed in 25 years because they haven't qualified for increased funding."

Nebraska became the 14th national chapter of the Uplifting Athletes organization this past summer.

Kellogg says the Huskers know they can make a greater impact together than they can alone. That's why they're using Team Jack as motivation to champion gliomas, the most common type of brain tumor in children. "I had a couple of friends die of cancer, and belonging to a chapter like this gives you a chance to be part of something that can help postpone what might happen," Kellogg said. "This is life. It's part of why we're here. Coach Bo is always telling us if we want to be treated like a man we have to act like a man. I think this fits into that category. We've chosen to help Jack and all the other kids who have the same kind of tumor."

Zimmer Laid the Groundwork for Nebraska Chapter

Shirley credits Keith Zimmer, Nebraska's associate athletic director for Life Skills, for his pivotal role in laying the groundwork required for Husker football players to become the fifth Big Ten school with an Uplifting Athletes chapter. The others are Penn State, Ohio State, Northwestern and Illinois. "Nebraska now becomes the Western-most chapter we have," Shirley said. "Nebraska comes onboard right after Notre Dame, and we're looking to expand even more."

Zimmer facilitated the inaugural meeting that elected officers. "We had an awesome meeting, and that paved the way for an action-plan meeting that Jessie Gardner facilitated," Zimmer said. "In addition to the executive committee, we're organizing committees for public relations, operations, fund-raising and volunteers. Our players did a lot of brainstorming about what they want to accomplish and the timing that works best for their sport. They presented that plan to Coach Pelini, and he supported the events they want to take on. This will give them a great chance to show their leadership skills, to make a difference and to find a way to recruit, so others can join the cause."

Even though Burkhead is not a chapter officer, he remains a driving force and constant source of inspiration. "This all came out of what Rex chose to do, the relationship he's had with Jack and the impact it's had on the rest of us," Enunwa said. "We chose to focus on his disease because our whole team has learned a lot about it. So have the Nebraska fans that support the cause. For me, this really does go back to when Coach Bo came into our homes and talked about us coming to Nebraska. My parents loved him because he's all about character. This is a chance for all of us to show what we've learned...to give back what we've been blessed to have...and to be inspired by people who really do need our help."

About Uplifting Athletes (from www.upliftingathletes.org)

Uplifting Athletes is a national nonprofit organization aligning college football with rare diseases and raising them as a national priority through outreach, research, education and advocacy. What makes Uplifting Athletes unique is that each chapter is run by current football student-athletes, providing them with an opportunity to gain practical job skills while learning how to leverage their assets and abilities to make a positive and lasting impact.

A rare disease is one that affects fewer than 200,000 Americans and consequently lacks financial incentive to make and market new treatments. Each chapter adopts one out of approximately 7,000 rare diseases (such as MS, ALS, cystic fibrosis, pancreatic cancer, etc.) – giving the football student-athletes an opportunity to make the cause relevant to them. Uplifting Athletes has chapters at Nebraska, Penn State, Ohio State, Maryland, Boston College, Colgate, NC State, Northwestern, Kent State, Princeton, Illinois, Fordham and Saint Francis.

The success of this initial effort, college football's lack of a cause-marketing relationship and the overwhelming needs of the rare disease community has led to the evolution of Uplifting Athletes, a 501(c)3 nonprofit with four primary service programs – outreach, research, education and advocacy. The benefits to the college football student-athletes include the aspects of professional development and social engagement. Uplifting Athletes is extending its network of university chapters within select major football programs. University chapters of Uplifting Athletes are set-up as registered student organizations, run by current football student-athletes and benefit a rare disease that is relevant to their team. Each chapter plans and hosts special events to help make the rare disease it selected more popular.
